norms prescribed for urban cooperative banks. However, with a view to protect the interests of the depositors, RBI has already taken certain measures such as imposition of directives under Section 35A of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 (As Applicable to Cooperative Societies), supersession of Board of Directors of MMCB, filing complaint against the Chairman and Managing Director of the bank, etc. The system of off-site surveillance in respect of scheduled urban cooperative banks in the country has been introduced since 30 March, 2001. The prudential norm relating to Capital Adequacy (Capital to Risk Assets Ratio—CRAR) is also being made applicable to Urban Cooperative Banks.
